December 19, 1963 - Thursday

Dean and Bill Tyler went to see Duncan Sandys this morning to discuss British Guiana. I joined them at the Foreign Secretary's office at 10:30, where the participants were on the British side, the Foreign Secretary, Sir Harold Caccia, Mr. Duncan Wilson, Lord Hood, Mr. Barnes, Mr. Henderson, Mr. Scott, and Mr. Hadow; on the American side, the Secretary, myself, Mr. Tyler, Mr. Manning, and Mr. Lampson.

Dean, Lewis Jones, Bill Tyler, Bob Schaetzel, and myself lunched with the Prime Minister and Messrs. Butler, Carrington, Caccia, Hood, and Wright.

The topics for the Secretary's morning meeting with Rab Butler were:

Holy Loch
Consultation on the use of nuclear weapons
Yemen
African questions
Fishing limits
Anglo-American cooperation over oil policy
US shipping discrimination
Cuban shipping
Internal situation in Brazil
Indian Ocean
Nepal
Cyprus
Malaysia
Indonesia
